

Downriver Presents:

An Introduction to All Breed Herding

All Breed Herding The Next Steps

The Introduction movie is 43 minutes long. The beginning shows a Border Collie & a Kelpie just to explain & show how the strong eyed breeds work. The rest of the movie looks at upright, loose-eyed breeds & ideas to handle problems that are common with them. It starts right with the dog's first intro to livestock - ideas on what you can do for problems such as quitting work, circling, gripping, splitting the stock. Then, once you get the dog balancing and working for their handler - what skills are needed to begin arena type trials - how to teach those skills...

"The Next Steps" picks up where the first movie finishes. It is 59 minutes long, and begins with ideas to slow your dog down, respect of the flight zone and how to teach a straight walk-up. The Next Step demonstrates drills to extend and widen the outrun, trial skills including take pens and freestanding obstacles, and introducing driving.

Price is for one DVD is $42 plus shipping or $76 (plus shipping) for both movies. We can accept Canadian or USD funds, however, the price is the same. Paypal will allow you to choose which currency that you want to pay in. Presently, the first movie is available in DVD format, and the "Next Steps" is available in VHS. Aug 15, 2006 is the anticipated date for completion of the second. Once available in DVD - there will be no VHS on hand, however, if you wish to order VHS format, I can have them printed up quickly. The filming was produced in high quality digital format - professionally filmed & edited - professional narrator. There are some dark areas, which were filmed either late in the day/evening—or during miserable weather - but those spots are very limited, and it was necessary to leave them in to allow for the best training opportunity. Cheques accepted payable to Downriver Farm, or pay using a charge card through PayPal at www.paypal.com Payable to downriver@uniserve.com
